

RACKHAM GRADUATE SCHOOL CENTENNIAL RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Thursday, February 16, 2012 • Rackham Building • 915 E. Washington, Ann Arbor

Michigan's graduate students develop creative ideas and push research in new directions to engage critical problems in every field of advanced study. The Symposium highlights the global impact that graduate students make through their research, and displays the quality, breadth, and diversity of graduate education at Michigan.

Presentations will be followed by a discussion with national foundation leaders about the challenges and opportunities for translating research into solutions for real-world problems.

Mark J. Cardillo,
Executive Director,
The Camille and
Henry Dreyfus
Foundation

Carol Goss,
President
and CEO,
The Skillman
Foundation

Edward Henry,
President
and CEO,
The Doris Duke
Charitable Foundation

3 pm to 5 pm

STUDENT PRESENTATIONS AND POSTERS

2nd and 4th floors, Rackham Building

5 pm to 6 pm

PANEL: FOUNDATION LEADERS

Rackham Amphitheatre

6 pm

RECEPTION

Rackham Lobby

SPONSORED BY

ONE HUNDRED YEARS

RACKHAM
GRADUATE SCHOOL