Do you want to:

- Have a say in Graduate School and University Decisions?
- Meet new people from across the graduate school?
- Help other students make new friends beyond their department or program?
- Allocate student fees to graduate student groups?
- Go to Washington, DC with a national coalition (SAGE) to lobby the federal government on behalf of graduate students?
- Have fun with other graduate students?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, RSG is for you!

Checkout our website for more information about your student government as well as our activities and ways to get involved.

Rackham Student Government
Your Voice, Your Government

So what is RSG and where can I get involved?

RSG has 7 committees that work to improve graduate student life in their respective areas. Each committee is lead by a chair or co-chairs and is always looking for new members. The committees and their areas of responsibility are:

- The Academic Affairs Committee – Deals with academic issues facing large groups of students down to individual issues facing a single student.
- The Budgetary Committee – Deals with our student fee. Manages it and allocates it to graduate student groups.
- The Communications Committee – Deals with appointing student to school and university committees and communication with the student body.
- The Elections Committee – Deals with our March and November elections.
- The Legislative Affairs Committee – RSG’s lobbying arm. Focuses on Local, State, and Federal issues ranging from the taxability of fellowships to international students’ visa issues.
- The Student Life Committee – Deals with all non-academic student life issues ranging from providing regular social events for graduate students to improving the general quality of life for our students.
- The Community Outreach and Social Action Committee – Provide opportunities for graduate students to engage in community service activities.

RSG’s Board is comprised of 22 elected representatives from across Rackham as well as the graduate student body president, vice president, and treasurer. The Board serves to coordinate the committees’ activities as well as to pass resolutions concerning the will of the student body. You don’t have to be elected to serve on the board… join as an associate representative! (See the website for details.)
