

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 2011

We are beginning the celebration of the 2012 Rackham Centennial – the 100th anniversary of the creation of a graduate school at the University of Michigan. While we look to the past as we celebrate this important milestone, we also celebrate the high caliber of our current students and future scholars.

Each year, your generous gifts are a critical source of financial support to graduate students at the University of Michigan. On their behalf, we are grateful for your help.

In this year's Honor Roll, we proudly feature students who plan to graduate in 2012. These students have benefited from the generosity of donors to the Rackham Graduate School. Please take a moment to read the stories that accompany their photos. These students are preparing themselves to make contributions of enormous promise to their fields of study.

The excellence of a great public research university centers on the quality of its graduate programs. Because you share our commitment to providing the best possible graduate experience for our students, you are an essential part of their success.

Thank you.

The Rackham Graduate School gratefully acknowledges gifts received between July 1, 2010, and June 30, 2011, from our alumni and friends.

Donors whose gifts were received after June 30, 2011 will be recognized in our next Honor Roll of Donors.

Corporate Matching Gifts play a vital role in our ability to provide student and program support. In this Honor Roll, we continue to credit each donor with his or her corporate matching gift. Therefore, you may find yourself listed in a higher giving range than expected.

If you discover any discrepancies with the listing of your gift or if we inadvertently omitted your name, please accept our apologies and help us set the record straight. We can be reached by mail using the form on page 24. You may also reach us by telephone, fax, and e-mail. Our contact information may be found on the last page of this report.

Thank you again for your generous support of graduate education at the University of Michigan.

STUDENT PROFILE

Andrew Chervenak
Ph.D. Student in Cellular and Molecular Biology
Rackham International Research Grant

Andrew graduated from Virginia
Commonwealth University in 2005 with a

B.S. in Biology. His dissertation research focuses on understanding how the Zic genes function to specify subsets of cells within the developing inner ear. As part of these studies, he examines mice lacking the Zic genes to see how inner ear development is altered. Rackham funding allowed him to travel to Australia to work on essential research for his dissertation.

STUDENT PROFILE

Donald Raymond

Ph.D. Student in Biological Chemistry
Rackham Predoctoral Fellowship

Donald received a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology from Temple University. He became interested in learning more about viral pathogens like yellow fever and HIV that were infecting the small population of his native St. Lucia. His current project uses high resolution X-ray crystallography to determine the 3-dimensional crystal structures of proteins from RNA viruses. Rackham funding supported the success of this project.

STUDENT PROFILE

Nathaniel Derbinsky
 Ph.D. Student in Computer Science and Engineering
 Rackham Predoctoral Fellowship

Nate received his B.S. in Computer Science from North Carolina State University. He researches human-inspired memories that are effective and efficient for artificial intelligence. His work contributes to the development of intelligent systems that are robust, adaptable, and capable of contending with real-world problems, such as personal caregiving, search-and-rescue, or long-term autonomous exploration in dangerous environments. Rackham funding afforded him added focus and flexibility in pursuing his dissertation research.

STUDENT PROFILE

Melanie Simpson
Ph.D. Student in History of Art
Rackham Merit Fellow

Melanie is from Louisville, Kentucky and received her undergraduate degree in Art History from the University of Chicago in 2005. Her dissertation examines the illuminated manuscripts of the Roman de la rose, which were produced from the late thirteenth century until well into the age of print. By investigating these manuscripts in relation to broader social, economic, and artistic developments, she hopes to contribute to a central discussion in art history: namely, reasons for rapid changes in representational strategies that characterized the visual arts during the later middle ages. Rackham funding permitted her to pursue her degree without the constant worry of financial instability.

STUDENT PROFILE

Melanie Henderson
Ph.D. Student in Psychology
Rackham Tuition Support Award

Melanie completed her undergraduate education at Oberlin College in Ohio (High Honors B.A., 2007) and received her M.S. in Psychology from the University of Michigan in 2010. Her research focuses on the role of power and status in organizations. She is especially interested in identifying personality and contextual factors that contribute to positive and negative power outcomes. She is also interested in the implications of various power strategies for subordinate outcomes, supervisor-subordinate relations, and overall organizational dynamics. Rackham funding allowed her to focus exclusively on her graduate coursework, research, and teaching obligations.

STUDENT PROFILE

Shikha Prasad
 Ph.D. Student in Nuclear Engineering and Radiological
 Sciences
 Barbour Scholar

In addition to her Ph.D. work, Shikha is also working on a certificate in the Ford School of Public Policy's Science, Technology, and Public Policy (STPP) program. Her doctoral research focuses on developing fast and robust computational methods that can detect nuclear weapons material. As part of the STPP program she is also learning ways in which effective nuclear policies can be formulated and implemented. Rackham funding enabled her to focus on her doctoral research.
