Arts of Citizenship supports Rackham students in designing mutually beneficial projects with community partners that address pressing social issues and enhance students’ professional development.

Participants in the Institute for Social Change will reflect on their personal and professional motivations, explore diverse modes of public scholarship, envision ways they can link their scholarly interests with the public good, and hone their ability to effectively engage in collaborative work that addresses pressing social issues.

E-mail your application, letter of interest, and CV to Elizabeth Werbe (e werbe@umich.edu), Associate Director, Arts of Citizenship, 915 E. Washington Street, Ann Arbor, MI 48109 by Tuesday, May 20, 2014.